● Luxury Brands Account Manager

Tortoise+Black | Oct 2018 - Dec 2018

Working at Tortoise+Black involved working closely with the Marketing manager, buying and researching new season items, managing all the companies social media pages, coming up with new social media campaigns and also creating new content. One main thing would be also writing new content and blogs.

A big part would be buying new products and visiting Superbrands head offices to discuss new season items to see what will be the best fit and which will sell the most. This would involve always working to a budget and making sure items were delivered on time to keep in the time frame of new seasons.
